

Title: Resume Writing for Freshers

Content:

Crafting a strong resume is essential for freshers who are entering the job market. A resume serves as the first impression for a potential employer and should clearly communicate the applicant's skills, education, and any relevant experience. While freshers may not have extensive work history, they can emphasize internships, academic projects, and certifications.

Key elements of a good resume include:

- Contact Information
- Career Objective
- Educational Background
- Skills (both technical and soft skills)
- Projects and Internships
- Certifications
- Extra-Curricular Activities (if relevant)

Tips:

- Keep it concise (1 page ideally).
- Use action verbs and avoid passive language.
- Highlight results or achievements in measurable terms when possible.
- Tailor the resume for each job application.
